The House met at 11 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

Rev. Albert E. Curry, Representative from Armstrong county, offered the following prayer:

Our Father which art in Heaven, we invoke Thy blessing to rest upon us today, asking that Thou would be with us in all our deliberations, and that Thou wouldst guide us in all our conclusions, that they may be to Thy glory and to the advancement of Thy honor in the world. We ask Thee that Thou wouldst bless each one of us this morning as we meet in this presence. We ask Thee that Thou would give to us courageous hearts; give to us the courage of our convictions, and may all that is done this day be in accordance with Thy mind and will, and may it rebound to Thy glory.

We ask Thy blessing upon the President of the United States; upon His Excellency, the Governor of this great Commonwealth, and upon all those who are engaged in legislative halls. We ask Thee, Heavenly Father, that Thou wouldst bless this great nation of ours. May this great nation be as an ambassador of God, leading and guiding the nations of earth towards truth, equity, brotherhood and justice.

We ask it all in His name. Amen.

House Bill No. 677.

An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine), entitled, "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 28, page 5, by striking out the words "ethical instruction;" also on page 6, line 3, by inserting after the word "training" the word "and;" also, by striking out after the word "physiology" the words "and hygiene."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 309.

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the fifth day of March one thousand nine hundred and six (Pamphlet Laws sixty-three) entitled "An act to provide for the personal registration of electors in cities of the third class of this Commonwealth to make such registration a condition of the right to vote in such cities and to provide penalties for violation of its provisions"

with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requsted.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 15, by striking out the word "registrars" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "registers"; also in line 16 by striking out the word "registrars" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "registers"; also in line 20, by striking out the word "registrars" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "registers"; also on page 3, line 4, by striking out the word "registrars" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "registers".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE NO. 57.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Rule No. 57 and amended House Rule No. 57 be suspended for the remainder of the session.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will lie over for a day, under the rules.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, last night there was a report by the Committee on Rules making a permanent change in a rule of the House. I call your attention to Rule No. 43, page 1091, which reads as follows: "Any motion to alter or amend the rules permanently shall lie over one day and shall be adopted by a majority vote." Last night the report of the rules committee in making a permanent change in Rule 57 came in and the motion was adopted clearly contrary to the rules and to the dicisions of this House.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I take exception to the statement by the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I have the floor.

Mr. HESS. I beg your pardon; I thought the gentleman had finished.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will proceed.

Mr. DITHRICH. The motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia called for a permanent change in the rule. Rule 43 also states, "Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time, for a specific purpose, by a majority vote; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before." It does not require for that temporary suspension of the rule that it live over. I submit that the ruling of last night was entirely improper unless the gentleman from Lancaster can point to something which does not signify a permanent change. I submit that under the rules the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia does not signify a temporary change but is a motion to suspend for the remainder of the session.

The SPEAKER. The rule must be suspended for a specific purpose under Rule 47.

Mr. HESS. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, does not make the differentiation between the fact as the rule applies to that, as to whether the motion or resolution comes from a member on the floor of the House or whether that resolution comes from the Committee on Rules. I refer the gentleman to Rule 66, under "Resolutions" which reads as follows: "All resolutions, after they have been read twice, shall be printed and lie over for one day, after which they may be called up under their appropriate order of business. This rule shall not apply to the following resolutions, namely, recalling bills from the Governor, recalling bills from one House to the other, requesting information from heads of departments, those emanating from the Committee on Rules." Therefore, under Rule 66, the Chair was entirely right in ruling that the resolution could be considered immediately. With reference to the resolution just offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, under Rule 43 the Chair is again entirely right in ruling that this motion must lie over one day for printing. Rule 43 says: "Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose, by a majority vote; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before." This resolution does not amend the rule for a specific purpose, after which the rule is reinstated as before, but this resolution seeks to permanently amend the rule and Rule No. 43 continues in the next paragraph, "Any motion to alter or amend the rules permanently shall lie over one day and shall be adopted by a majority vote," which means that it is not for a specific purpose and does not go back as before and shall lie over for one day, and, "shall be adopted by a majority vote."

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I don't agree with the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, in his interpretation of the rules. While it is true that a report from the Committee on Rules or a resolution emanating from the Committee on Rules may be considered after lying over for a day in accordance with Rule 66, yet I understand, Mr. Speaker, when that report on the Committee or the resolution tends to lie there permanently, another rule of the House than Rule 66 has to be considered. That rule specifically provides that any permanent change in the rules regulating the action of the House shall lie over for a day. If the report of the Committee on Rules could have been understood to be a temporary change or an entirely new rule, then I say that that motion could be entertained, but since the resolution which they submitted to the House tends to permanently alter another rule, I say that rule cannot be enforced. I therefore ask you, Mr. Speaker, whether you will rule that the resolution offered last evening is in vogue.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that his ruling and his opinion last night was entirely correct and entirely within the provisions of the rules of this House that have been followed ever since the rules have been established. The Chair will stand upon his ruling.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I move that vote by which the resolution emanating from the Rule Committee was passed last evening be reconsidered.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. There is a motion before the House, and the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move to amend the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. James A. Walker, in order that Rule 57 be suspended for the purpose of discharging the committee on Municipal Corporations, of this House, from further consideration on Senate Bill No. 688, I think that is the number of the bill—repealing the non-partisan primary law in cities of the second class.

My motion is that Rule 57 be suspended for the purpose of discharging the Committee on Municipal Corporations from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform the gentleman from Allegheny that the bill to which he refers, the non-partisan repealer bill, has not been in committee for a period of ten days.

Mr. DITHRICH. That is the purpose of the suspension of the rule.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will inform the House that if the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny were to prevail, it would result in a very serious situation and it would be a blow at the fundamentals of parliamentary law.

The committee is supposed to consider legislation; that is its duty. If the House desires to eliminate the committee, and if we are going to suspend the rule whereby the work of the committee shall be crippled, the Chair will place the matter before the attention of the House. But the Chair desires clearly to inform the members of the House of the seriousness of such a situation.

Mr. DITHRICH. My purpose is not in any way to hamper or hinder legislation, but I charge here on the floor of this House that the Chairman of the Municipal Corporations Committee has purposely absented himself from this session of the Legislature so that action could not be taken on this bill. Now, gentlemen, there has been referred to my committee possibly more legislation that to any other committee with the exception of the Appropriations Committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips, will state his point of order.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that a few moments ago a resolution was introduced in this House to suspend rule No. 57, and it lies over under the rules for one day. Therefore, this question has been settled.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, as amended, was that it would apply for a specific purpose.

The SPEAKER. Since the motion will have to lie over for one day under the Rules, the gentleman's amendment is out of order, and so the Chair rules.

Mr. DITHRICH. As I understand the Rules of the House the rule may be suspended for a specific purpose, and it would not be necessary for it to lie over.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that there is one resolution before the House, and if there are to be amendments added to that resolution, the Chair desires those amendments to be in writing or motion.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker I withdraw my motion for the present.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny having withdrawn his motion, the motion is not before the House.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker I move that the vote by which Rule 57 was amended by report sumbitted by the Committee on Rules on Monday evening, April 18th, 1921, be reconsidered.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, in asking for a reconsideration of this vote on the amendment to Rule 57, and which the Committee on Rules submitted to us last night, I do not believe that a majority of the members present last evening knew the purpose of that amendment. Its purpose is to keep in the Committees bills that they do not want out. Now perhaps the Committee on Rules have all their legislation out that they think necessary. I have my work out of the committees and it is through this House, but in all justice to those who have bills in committees, in fairness to those, I consider that the rule as laid down, the permanent rule, should prevail, even if it is during the closing the hours of this session. Give every man a chance to get his bill out in the House, and let the members of the House decide whether it is right or not and proper to pass that bill. Let us pass judgment on it. I ask for the reconsideration of the vote.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentlemen of this House what is the use of having a Committee on Rules if we are going to turn down their recommendations after coming before us last night with a report and we adopted it. Now I say ought we turn around in the next twenty-four hours and turn down that adoption. There is a specific purpose and reason for this. These bills have been in committee for the last three months. Every member has had an opportunity to have his bills considered and brought out of committee. I think gentlemen of the House we go beyond our limits when we turn down the Committee on Rules at this time.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I voted for the resolution last night which is now before us. I did so because I had sufficient confidence in an individual who said to me it was the right thing to do at this particular time late in the session. I want to say to the members of this House, as the gentleman from Philadelphia said, that I believe many individuals were misled by members who had no pure motive in the passage of this resolution. I want to say that we are not here to smother legislation, that we are here to pass legislation in the closing moments of this session covering a period of ten day when any action should be permitted. It is unfair to any piece of legislation or any individual who might be interested in any legislation that is now in committee. Therefore I say to you gentlemen who are not familiar with the action of last night that it is nothing more than fair and right to every piece of legislation in the committees or this House that this rule be suspended and that we shall again be permitted to call from a committee who willing and premediatitively desires to hold in committee a piece of legislation that concerns this Commonwealth. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I trust that the members of this House will not be deceived but will take from now on a broad stand to see that every particular piece of legislation, wherever it is, can be considered. It makes no difference where it is, but we ought to be fair and we ought to be impartial and we ought to be able to consider aright legislation that is brought here for the benefit of this Commonwealth. Therefore I trust that those who did not understand their action of last evening will certainly understand it today and vote for this motion to suspend the resolution that was introduced last night.

Mr. WILLIAMS. I think the gentleman from Indiana is unduly wrought up over this matter in the position he has taken. The failure of the resolution introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, does not preclude the members of this House, if the rule of last night stands, from getting a bill out of committee. This simply makes the number required one hundred and four instead of sixty. Now if a bill which is in committee has merit enough to have the committee discharged from further consideration of the bill then it will require one hundred and four votes to call it out of committee, which is the required number to pass it in the House.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I want to call to your recollection a familiar phrase. A phrase that I am sure is very familiar to all of you. I have heard it dozens of times during the time that we neared the close of other sessions, and that phrase is this: "I will go along to get your bill out of committee, but I will not vote for it." As a result of that legislation is smothered, that is true, but which legislation is smothered? Is it the legislation that is brought out of committee because members say "I will go along, but I will not vote for it," or is it legislation that is crowded off the calendar, that is postponed until the last moments, and finally cannot be reached because of the fact that this practice has been in vogue during the closing hours of many sessions, that we will go along and get everything out of committee and put it on the calendar, but then we will defeat it after it is on the calendar. As the result of it you congest the calendar, you congest the printing department so that legislation that is meritorious cannot be considered and finally goes down in the crash. Now the Committee on Rules has no particular legislation that we want smothered. None whatever. This proposition has been argued by the Committee on Rules since near the beginning of the session, and at a time about the middle of the session it was almost decided to offer this amendment to the Rules of this House, but finally another matter came up and crowded it out, and it was not done, but when we neared the close of the session again this matter came up for discussion. I leave it to the good judgment of this House whether or not you are smothering more valuable legislation by permitting a vote of sixty to bring any kind of a bill out of Committee and putting it on the calendar, congesting your Printing Department and crowding more meritorious legislation off the calendar? That is the thought of the Committee on Rules. If a bill which committees now have had ample time to thoroughly consider, if a bill after it has been carefully considered by any one of the Committees or by members of the House, because we have all become more familiar with all of the legislation upon the calendar and introduced here, if a bill does not have sufficient merit to get a vote of one hundred and four members to bring it out on the floor of the House, ought it be brought out to congest the calendars, and congest the Printing Department to the disparagement of the passing of other more meritorious legislation. That is the purpose of the amendment, and that is the only purpose of the amendment. I submit to you that the Committee on Rules had no ulterior motive. You know gentlemen who constitutes that Committee. They were unanimous in recommending this resolution to the consideration of this House. They were not only unanimous, but it was discussed from every angle before it was done, and after very thorough discussion with this thought in mind it was presented. It does not prevent any bill from being put on the calendar but it does mean this, if a man who has a measure that the majority of this House can see little merit in he cannot lobby around in the House and get these men to say, "Well, I will go along to put it on the calendar, but I won't promise to vote for it." And so, in the closing hours of this session, bill after bill and bill after bill will be brought onto this calendar and will be sent to the printing department, which is so congested now that we cannot convene the House at the hour when we should meet. Then, when these bills come up for consideration, someone will move that the bill be stricken from the calendar, after congesting the calendar and the printing department with those bills, and it is for this that other bills are held back. If the gentleman can show enough strength for the bill and give a reasonable explanation of why the bill should be favorably acted upon by this House, then he would be able to get one hundred and four members to report it out, and in all probabilities would get one hundred four members to vote for it and pass it. This resolution was the unanimous opinion of the Rules Committee, and I submit it to the members of the House.

Mr. DITHRICH. For the information of the gentleman from Lancaster, I would say that I have no objection to the amendment of the rules requiring a constitutional majority to discharge a committee. I would say that the legislation in which I am interested in having submitted to this House will in all probability receive more than one hundred four votes if it comes before the House for consideration. The one fact in that resolution which makes it impossible to get consideration of legislation is the provision requiring that a bill be in committee for ten days. The gentleman from Lancaster has not mentioned that part of the rule. It is almost an impossibility under that condition to get a bill out.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster will state his point of order.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will sustain the point of order raised by the gentleman from Lancaster.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, there has never been any mention made of the ten-day provision. This is merely a change in the vote, requiring, instead of sixty votes, a constitutional majority to discharge a committee from further consineration of a bill. It is an entirely different subject.

Mr. DITHRICH. But, Mr. Speaker, the ten-day provision is still in the rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman from Allegheny is out of order, and that the ten-day provision is not before the House.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I am discussing the rule as amended.

The SPEAKER. The Char has already ruled, and will stand on his ruling.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Rules Committee I signed the report calling for that change, which was passed last night. I cannot see where the motion made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, is going to eliminate the ten-day possibility, or rather the ten-day clause in that rule, and therefore I would suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia that he withdraw his motion.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, that the vote by which the House voted last evening to amend Rule 57, be reconsidered. The Chair will state that this rule was adopted as the unanimous report of the Committee on Rules, and was adopted last evening by the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO 399 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 19,1921.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 399, File Folio 1705, entitled "An act relating to the adequate protection of fruit, vegetables or other articles of food from flies," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE NO. 57.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 57 be suspended for the purpose of discharging the Municipal Corporations Committee from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, repealing the non-partisan election law in second class cities.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read Rule 57.

The Clerk read Rule 57 as follows:

"That after a bill has been ten days in the hands of a committee, after having been referred to it, a vote of sixty members shall be sufficient to discharge the committee from a further consideration of the same."

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that the Clerk read Rule 57 as amended.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read Rule 57 as amended.

The Clerk then read Rule 57 as amended as follows:

"That after a bill has been ten days in the hands of a committee, after having been referred to it a majority vote of all members shall be sufficient to discharge the Committee from further consideration of the same."

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a second reading of the motion.

The motion was again read as follows:

Moved by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, seconded by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Hough that Rule 57 be suspended for the purpose of discharging the Municipal Corporations Committee from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, repealing the non-partisan election law in second class cities.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I want this information; if this rule be suspended, how many votes will be required to discharge the Committee?

The SPEAKER. One hundred and four.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Lancaster, as I said before, we feel that we shall be able to obtain one hundred and four votes for this legislation, and my purpose in offering this motion is to suspend the rule with the ten day provision in it. This is a matter of legislation in which we are vitally interested. If the gentleman from Allegheny, the Chairman of the Municipal Corporations Committee had attended this week's session of the House, that matter could have been taken up in Committee, but the gentleman is not here, and I charge here on the floor of the House that he has purposely absented himself. The gentleman will have an opportunity to answer me because my remarks will be spread on the Legislative Journal, and when he returns, he can answer me if he sees fit. No leave of absence has been asked for him. He is away without leave of absence —the chairman of one of the most important committees here—and there are a number of bills of vital importance to every member in this House lying in that committee, and no action can be taken on them because the Chairman of that Committee has seen fit to stay away. Now gentlemen, I am putting this proposition to you as a simple matter of fairness; we want to have the bill come out of this committee. Then if a majority of the members of this House are opposed to the legislation, then we will accept gracefully, but we ought to be treated with fairness,—that is all I have been asking. I would be the last member of the Assembly to rise and ask for such a thing if we had been treated fairly and squarely in this matter, but we have not been so treated. We play politics here, of course; all of us members play politics, but we want to play the game cleanly. We have not been treated fairly in this matter, and that is why it is necessary for me to appeal to the memebrship of this House at this time. Now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lancaster, in discussing the motion said that if the rule were entirely suspended it would open the floodgates to a lot of legislation which would come up later to be stricken from the calendar.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I have made a motion to overcome that objection and I am making it for the sole and specific purpose of discharging the committee on Municipal Corporations from the further consideration of this bill. I regret it, but we have not been dealt with fairly by this Committee, and if we had, it would be unnecessary to make this motion, and there was no other course open but to appeal to you, and I appeal to you now, to your sense of fairness and ask you to support this motion so that we may discharge that committee.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, what particular merit in this bill requires a motion that there should be a suspension of rules in order to report it out any more than to report out any or every other bill that is in committee. The purpose is to report this non-partisan bill out relating to second-class cities. It has not been in committee for ten days, and if this is reported out, why should not every other bill be reported out likewise? This law was placed on the statues of this State ten years ago; it has been satisfactory to the large majority of the second-class cities of this State, and it is only unsatisfactory to one particular political organization in the city of Pittsburgh. Every civic organization in that city is against the repeal of this non-partisan law. The chairman of the Committee on Municipal Corporations is absent. However, the bill has not been in that committee ten days, and I ask you gentlemen, if for political reasons, for the reasons of that one organization, why will you make the exception and attempt to suspend a rule to report this bill out. I submit that it is unfair and that this motion should be voted down.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, just one word in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, who has just addressed you. It is not my purpose to discuss the merits of the bill. If the chairman of the Committee on Municipal Corporations had come over here the matter would have been taken up in committee, but in the absence of the chairman, with nobody else designated to call up this matter, it was impossible to get action, and that is why I appeal to you today.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the chairman of that Committee has been here every day of the session and up until the close of last week. Yesterday is the only day upon which he has been absent, and there is no information brought to you but that he will be here within a short time, and there is absolutely no reason why this committee should be accorded any unfair treatment or why this measure should receive different treatment than any measure or any other bill which is in this committee.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I will offer the following amendment to the motion made by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich:

I move a substitute motion to the effect that:

The Speaker shall instruct the Committee on Municipal Corporations to meet within thirty-six hours and take action on Senate Bill No. 688.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, it is laughable that a substitute motion like that should be offered on the floor of this House. When the gentleman from Lancaster suggested a substitute motion I said that I was agreed to that with qualifications. If the chairman of that committee can be here in thirty-six hours he can be here this evening as well, and what is the purpose of extending the time thirty-six hours? It is only to further the purpose of the chairman of the committee to stifle this resolution. As I have stated before, I appeal to you on the ground of fairness, but in asking for that I want to be fair; but I will submit to you that this motion extending the time of the meeting of this committee thirty-six hours is wrong. If he gentleman from Lancaster will agree with the Speaker to instruct the committee to meet any time this afternoon, I will agree to the amendment presented to my motion, but I want the committee to take action at once and I do not want that action to be postponed for thirty-six hours.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Chair, can the Speaker instruct a committee to act?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is inclined to think that he does not have that power.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that the Chair does not have that power, and I withdraw the substitute motion.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, withdraws the substitute motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich?

The Clerk will read the motion.

The motion was read as follows:

Moved by Mr. Dithrich, that Rule 57, as amended, be suspended for the purpose of discharging the Committee on Municipal Corporations from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, repealing the nonpartisan election law for cities of the second class.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, that if Rule 57 is suspended, under the rules, there is no vote by which the Speaker can declare the motion either carried or lost.

The SPEAKER. The point of order by the gentleman from Lancaster is not sustained.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, if Rule 57 is suspended, what is then in order? Is debate on the merits of the bill in order?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that it opens the whole question.

Mr. FLYNN. There is nothing which governs the House for the time being and unlimited debate may be continued —am I right?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will so rule.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I am not personally interested in the merits of this bill, but I wish to submit here for the calm consideration of the members of this House if you will suspend the rules under which this House is now operating, that, coming now to the closing days of the session, it will end perhaps in prolonging the session, that it will end in unlimited discussion, and that no man present knows to what or where it may lead. I believe that this matter under discussion can be handled without suspending any rules of the House; that it can be handled in an orderly manner, and that finally this bill can be brought before the House without any such drastic action as is proposed here. I do say that you would do well to carefully consider what is now before you and vote down the motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, answering the gentleman from Elk, I do not know whether he was present when the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, was introduced. That objection was raised at that time, but that motion was ruled out and this motion was introduced to overcome the very objection that the gentleman from Elk has raised, that is, that it would bring a lot of legislation upon the calendar and cause endless discussion. This motion is for one specific purpose, and when the rule is suspended for that specific purpose and that purpose is accomplished or defeated, then we go back to that rule and it governs for the remainder of the session. I will read to you a part of Rule No. 43, "Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specified purpose by a majority vote; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before," so that after the purpose for which this motion is made is accomplished or defeated, Rule 57 remains in effect as before.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman understand that if the House suspends Rule 57, that debate is then in order on the question before the House?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I will state to the gentleman from Elk that if the House suspends Rule 57 I will immediately offer a motion to discharge the Municipal Corporations Committee from further consideration of the bill, and the matter of the debate is a matter for the Speaker to rule on.

Mr. FLYNN. May I ask the Speaker for the ruling on that question, as to whether or not debate is in order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the gentleman to state his question.

Mr. FLYNN. If the rule should be suspended under this motion, do I understand that debate on the main question is then in order on the merits of the bill under consideration?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the motion in its conclusion says, "and for its consideration." The gentleman from Allegheny has asked for a suspension of the rule for a specific purpose,—to discharge the committee from further consideration of a particular bill. If this motion were carried the main question, namely, the bill, would be before the House for debate and consideration automatically.

Mr. FLYNN. Then, Mr. Speaker, I again wish to reiterate what I have already said.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state in addition to that that this, being a motion for the suspension of a rule for the specific purpose of discharging a committee from the consideration of a particular bill, the question opens debate upon the subject matter of the bill.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the Speaker, if the Committee is discharged from further consideration of the bill if it does not place the bill upon the calendar in its regular course, and gets no precedence over other legislation, and the bill simply comes out and is placed upon the calendar and is acted upon in its regular order, and if there is general discussion on the bill, if the previous question cannot be moved at any time?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that if the rule is suspended the bill is automatically reported and goes on the calendar.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, how about the latter part if the motion is carried, about limited discussion. My Contention is, Mr. Speaker, that if the House votes to suspend Rule 57, that for the time being we are operating without rules.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that if the rule is suspended that it is suspended only under the motion for a specific purpose, and if that purpose has not been accomplished, the rule automatically goes back into force.

Mr. FLYNN. Yes Mr. Speaker, but in the meantime?

The SPEAKER. In the meantime as soon as the specific purpose is accomplished, the rule goes back.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I properly understand the Speaker or not, in saying that if the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny prevails that that without any other motion automatically discharges the Committee.

The SPEAKER. For a specific purpose———

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I say if the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny prevails does that automatically and without any further motion discharge the committee.

The SPEAKER. That automatically places the bill on the calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is what I wanted to know.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, as a parliamentary inquiry, if the resolution which is now pending to suspend the rule prevails, does it not require a second resolution in order that the Committee may be discharged and the bill placed on the calender?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that there will have to be another motion. The first motion is to suspend the rule for a specific purposes, and then another motion would have to be made to discharge the committee, so that there would have to be two separate motions.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ehrhardt and Mr. Dithrich, and were as follows:

An Act creating a commission to secure a site and to establish and conduct a State fair and making an appropriation therefor

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HESS. There is some objection to this bill No. 845. The opponents of the bill do not wish to interfere with the progress that is being made on the appropriation calendar, and in view of that fact I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 845 be postponed for the present.

Mr. RHOADS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 2 If a majority of the electors who shall vote upon the aforesaid question shall favor the holding of a constitutional convention the said convention shall convene in the Senate chamber in the State capitol in the city of Harrisburg on the second Tuesday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two at twelve o'clock noon and shall conclude its sessions not later than Auguist first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two

Section 3 The said constitutional convention if authorized by the electors as hereinbefore provided shall consist of three delegates from each congressional district within the Commonwealth as said districts are constituted at the time of said primary election and twenty-five delegates from the Commonwealth at large chosen as hereinafter provided

Section 4 Nominations for district delegates to the said constitutional convention shall be made at the primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one Names for candidates for nomination shall be printed upon the official ballot of each political party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty days before the date of the said primary Such nomination petitions shall be in the form required by law for the nomination of candidates for the office of representatives in Congress and shall be signed by at least two hundred qualified electors of the congressional districts within which the respective candidates shall reside as provided by law

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in forwarding to the county commissioners of each county a list of the candidates for the various offices to be nominated at the said primary election shall include the names of the candidates of each party for delegates to the constitutional convention

Each elector voting at such primary shall be entitled to vote for two candidates for district delegate to such constitutional convention

The county commissioners or the proper return judges shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for the office of delegate to the constitutional convention to the Secretary of the Commonwealth

The two candidates of any political party receiving the largest number of votes at the said primary election shall be the nominees of such party for delegates from the congressional district within which such candidates reside

Nominations for district delegates made as herein provided shall be of full force and effect in the event that the electors at the said primary election shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two but in the event that the electors at such primary election shall not authorize the holding of a constitutional convention in said year the nominations made at said primary election shall be void and of no force or effect whatsoever

Section 5 Nominations for district delegates to said constitutional convention if authorized as hereinbefore provided may also be made by nomination papers in the manner provided by law for the nomination by nomination papers of candidates for representative in Congress

Section 6 If the electors at the said primary election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one shall authorize the holding of a constitutional convention as hereinbefore provided district delegates to such convention shall be elected at the municipal election for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one

The ballots for use at such municipal election in the several congressional districts of the Commonwealth shall contain the names of the candidates for district delegates from such congressional districts nominated as hereinbefore provided and each elector voting at such municipal election shall be entitled to vote for two district delegates to such Constitutional Convention and the three candidates for district delegates in each congressional district receiving the highest vote shall be the district delegates from such district to the Constitutional Convention

Section 7 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided the Governor shall appoint twenty-five delegates to said Convention from the Commonwealth at large Returns of the said election shall be made by the proper prothonotary or return judges to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall certify the results to the Governor who shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected and of those appointed by him Any vacancies occurring in the office of district delegate or delegate at large to said Constitutional Convention may be filled by vote of the remaining delegates

Section 8 If a Constitutional Convention be authorized as hereinbefore provided it shall be called to order by the Governor and it shall immediately organize by electing a president secretary and such other officers as shall be necessary for the transaction of its business It shall have the power to adopt rules of procedure finally to determine the election and qualification of delegates and generally to adjourn to such time or times and such place or places as it shall determine

Section 9 It shall be the duty of such Constitutional Convention to consider the Constitution recommended by "The Commission on Constitutional Amendment and Revision" appointed under the act approved the fourth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred nineteen

The Convention may submit a proposed Constitution as a whole or may submit separately such parts thereof as it may determine.

The Convention shall also frame the question necessary to elicit from the electors their approval or rejection of the said proposed Constitution and of any parts to be separately submitted in brief form and so that they can be answered by either the word "yes" or the word "no"

Section 10 Such Constitution as may be proposed by the Constitutional Convention shall be engrossed and signed by the president and secretary of the Convention and shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth not later than the first Monday of September of the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall enter the proposed Constitution upon the records of his office He shall publish the said proposed Constitution in at least two newspapers in every county of the State wherein said number of newspapers may be published once during the week immediately preceding the election and shall publish the same in convenient form and send a copy thereof to every elector in the Commonwealth making application therefor He shall also cause to be sent through the County Commissioners to each polling place in the Commonwealth in sufficient time to be there available to persons voting thereat at least ten copies of the Constitution so published for the use of voters desiring to consult the same while in the polling place

The question framed by the Convention as aforesaid shall be by said Convention certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall in turn at least thirty days before the general election of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two certify the same to the County Commissioners of the several counties The questions so certified shall be printed on the official ballot to be used at such general election followed by the words "yes" and "no" and appropriate voting blocks as provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth for the submission of questions to the vote of the people

Section 11 The Constitution and any parts thereof to be submitted separately proposed by such Constitutional Convention shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth for their approval or rejection at the General Election in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two A majority of the electors voting upon the adoption or rejection of the proposed Constitution shall be necessary for its adoption Such proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately if approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon shall become effective unless the proposed Constitution or the schedule thereto shall otherwise provide upon the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three Returns of the vote cast for and against the proposed Constitution and for and against any parts thereof submitted separately as hereinbefore provided shall be canvassed as provided by law and shall be certified by the prothonotary of every county to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall compute the same and certify the result to the Governor If from said certificate it shall appear that the proposed Constitution and any parts thereof submitted separately shall have been adopted by the people the Governor shall immediately make proclamation thereof

Section 12 The members of the Constitutional Convention if held as provided by this act shall each receive a salary of one thousand dollars ($1,000) payable in five equal installments an allowance for traveling expenses of twenty cents per mile circular for one session and an allowance for postage stationery and contingencies of one hundred dollars ($100)

The Convention shall have the power to employ and to fix the compensation of such secretary officers assistants clerks and other employes as shall be deemed necesary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 13 It is the intent of this act that the procedure provided for the nomination and election of district delegates shall be the same as that provided by law for the nomination and election of representatives in Congress and matters relating to the nomination and election of delegates not expressly covered by this act shall be governed by the laws relating to the nomination and election of such representatives

Section 14 The sum of two hundred eighty-five thousand dollars ($285,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for the payment of the salaries and expenses connected with the said Constitutional Convention and the advertising connected with the submission thereof the necessary printing and binding which shall be done by the Department of Public Printing and Binding on the order of the chairman Payment of all moneys shall be on order of the President of the Convention and on warrant of the Auditor General

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to the point of order that this bill, not being an appropriation bill, is falsely placed on the calendar. I would ask the Chair to rule and if the point of order is sustained that the bill be put in its proper place on the third reading calendar.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill carries an appropriation for one of the most important matters this State has had to consider since 1873. It carries an appropriation for State purposes the same as some of the other appropriation bills which we have just passed, and therefore I ask the Chair to rule that the gentleman's point is not well taken.

The SPEAKER. The bill carries an appropriation of some $250,000, and the Chair is disposed to rule that the bill can be considered at this time. The Chair is glad to hear any argument on the subject.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask to have read the resolution relating to appropriation bills, that was passed and adopted.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware asks for the reading of the resolution making appropriation bills on first, second and third reading a special order.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, in order to save time, I would move that this bill be postponed for the present until we find the resolution.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the gentleman from Delaware has a right to request the reading of the resolution under parliamentary law, and the Chair would so rule.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, if this bill was in its proper place last evening, when it was on the calendar, it certainly is in its proper place today. No objection was raised yesterday, and I do not think the question can be raised today.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that this motion merely defers consideration of this bill until the resolution can be read for the enlightenment of the House and the enlightenment of the Chair.

If there is no objection the Chair will postpone this matter temporarily.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the Chair, the Journal Clerk has gone to secure a copy of the resolution. I therefore move that we take a recess for five minutes until the resolution is presented.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already postponed action temporarily.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 19, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, entitled:

Whereas, a native son of Pennsylvania and one of the leading factors for the betterment and uplift of our great Commonwealth has been highly honored by the Church he represents in being appointed to a most exalted position in administering to the spiritual wants of millions of people in this country; and

Whereas, the officials of the city of Philadelphia, of the State and of the Nation have joined with representatives of many religious bodies, business men, and citizens of every class, in tendering to him a public reception at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Friday evening, April fifteenth; and

Whereas, with a feeling of pride in having within the borders of our State so distinguished and honored a citizen the General Assembly is desirous of showing its appreciation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly does hereby tender its congratulations to His Eminence Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia on his elevation to the supreme post he now occupies in the Catholic Church of the entire world; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly sincerely wishes him a long continued period of usefulness to the State and Nation, and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk is instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to His Eminence Cardinal Dougherty and to the Hon. J. Hampton Moore, Mayor of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee.

WM. C. SPROUL.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 154 RESUMED.

The SPEAKER. The House will now resume consideration of the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer. The resolution which the gentleman from Delaware requested to be read, reads as follows:

"Resolved, That all appropriation bills shall, after the fourteenth day of April ,one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, be the first order on the first reading, second reading and third reading calendars of each day."

This, therefore, being an appropriation bill, the resolution does not specify the character of appropriation bills, the Chair would necessarily be forced to rule that this bill is in its regular order.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the title of this bill is, "An act relating to the preparation of a new Constitution of the Commonwealth by a convention and its adoption or rejection by the people and making an appropriation."

Now, that is the principal subject, relating to the preparation of a new Constitution. While it does carry an appropriation, it is not what is generally termed an appropriation bill. While it does carry an appropriation, the main purpose is the creation of a commission for the presentation of a new Constitution for the Commonwealth by a convention, and that is its purpose. It seems to me that the principal subject is far afield from that of an appropriation bill. This bill in its name is a bill the principal subject of which is the preparation of a new Constitution of the Commonwealth by a conventon and its adoption or rejection by the people. The appropriation end of it is a mere secondary part of it. In order to carry the bill through there is an appropriation attached to it, but it seems to me that in the general terms of an appropriation bill, this is not such a bill.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the Chair has ruled on the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has not definitely ruled on the point of order. The Chair has permitted the gentleman to argue the question before definitely ruling.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Does the Chair rule that the bill is now in its proper place?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is waiting for further discussion before ruling.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Will the Speaker state what the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia raised the point of order that the bill was not in its proper place and did not belong among the appropriation bills as a special order under the resolution adopted by the Resolutions Committee.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, as that resolution was read to us a few moments ago by the Speaker, we find it covers all appropriation bills. This bill is an appropriation bill for a specific purpose as provided for in the Constitution, Article 3, section 16, which provides, "No money shall be paid out of the treasury except upon appropriations made by law, and on warrant drawn by the proper officers in pursuance thereof." Then comes another clause in section 17, which is construed to charitable and educational institutions, and then there is a limit on appropriations for pensions and gratuities for military service. This is an appropriation provided for by law, to be drawn from the public treasury, as required by the Constitution. It is one of those things expected to be presented every time the Constitution is amended by a convention, and therefore I submit that the points of order raised are absolutely out of order because this bill comes not only within the resolution of the Rules Committee, but within the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The Chair under the wording of the resolution is compelled to overrule the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer. The bill is now before the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, there has been considerable agitation both for and against the question of a new Constitution. For my part, I am very well satisfied with the Constitution that we have. There are some parts of it perhaps, that need some attention, but those changes can be made for much less than $285,000 in the regular and ordinary way of submitting those certain parts to the people of Pennsylvania as we have done heretofore. There are a number of things advocated in the new Constitution or the recommendation that seem to me can be carried out just as well in its present form. For instance, when a person is asked why we need a new Constitution, the first thing they will tell you is because we must have a budget system for the appropriations and for the workings at Harrisburg. Now, that can be done, and there is a bill here at the present time in this Legislature providing for a budget system. It does not require any change in the Constitution to have that. Another thing they advise in the new Constitution is that all bills shall be passed and in the hands of the Governor ten days before the session adjourns. At the beginning of the present session I prepared and presented to this House a resolution carrying out practically that one object. That went into one of the pigeonholes and was not considered important enough to be brought out. Now, if those things are not any more important, those things which I mentioned, the budget system and the other things, they could have been remedied by this House without any expensive remedies, without any large expenditures in the changing of the Constitution. Why is it necessary to fling this whole Constitution open for amendments, when people might get something in there which perhaps later on they will not need in there and should not have there? It appropriates $285,000 for this Constitutional convention. We need that $285,000 and we can save it. I hear some people and some of the members of this House say, "Well, it won't hurt anything for us to pass it to the people, because they will turn it down anyhow." If the people are going to turn it down, why don't we turn it down first and save that money. I can see no reason why this whole Constitution should be amended when there are only a few parts in it that need amending, which can be changed without all this expense. Therefore, for that reason and for the reason that we need the money that will be expended to carry out this proposition, I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, if I may detain the members of the House for a few minutes, we have brought into our body politic of this State a number of new electors, and we have been asked by the women of this Commonwealth to join with them in securing certain amendments. The gentleman from Delaware has spoken of the revision which was prepared by a commission. We have not evidence at this time that that will be the next Constitution. We are to elect as well as to have certain members appointed in the new convention, and their judgment will be given and submitted to the people for acceptance or rejection. This is a proposition which has been called for for some years past, and we feel that if it is submitted to the people they, in their wisdom, will dictate whether the old Constitution will stand or whether a new one is needed. The appropriation in this bill is for the purpose of maintaining that convention while it is doing the work provided for in this bill.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. WHITEMAN, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1495, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine, section one, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to permit the exemption from taxation of real and personal property owned, occupied or used by any branch or post or camp of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish-American Wars Veterans, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States.

Mr. WHITEMAN, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1644, (Senate Bill No. 931), entitled:

An Act providing for the appointment of county detectives in counties of the fourth class and fixing their salaries payable from the county treasury.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1690, (Senate Bill No. 873), entitled:

An Act relating to explosives, making unlawful the giving away, sale or delivery of explosives to persons under sixteen years and having in possession and use of explosives for certain purposes.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1691, (Senate Bill No. 874), entitled:

An Act relating to explosives, making unlawful the giving away, sale or delivery of explosives without the making and keeping of records of sale.

Mr. CAMPBELL, from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1526, (Senate Bill No. 761), entitled:

An Act authorizing the establishment by counties of hospitals for the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis, providing for the management and maintenance thereof, and authorizing the incurring of indebtedness and the levy of taxes therefor.

Mr. PHILLIPS, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1718, (Senate Bill No. 954), entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred and thirty-two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof, providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS, from the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1709, (Senate Bill No. 877), entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of the Lieutenant Governor.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. PHILLIPS asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following bills read for the first time:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1718, (Senate Bill No. 954), entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred and thirty-two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. ALBERT S. C. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote on the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, to discharge the Committee on Municipal Corporations from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, entitled:

An Act regulating nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and repealing certain acts be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the motion.

The Clerk read the motion as follows:

"Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule No. 57 be suspended for the purpose of discharging the Municipal Corporations Committee from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 688, repealing the nonpartisan election law in second class cities."

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lancaster will state his point of order.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, that this motion is out of order, and that the vote cannot be reconsidered at this time. My authority for that point of order is in Hon. Thomas B. Reed's Rules, as Speaker of the National House of Representatives, on Page 149, Rule 204, which is as follows: "A motion to reconsider is applicable to almost all motions. The exceptions are, a motion to adjourn; a motion to lay on the table when decided in the affirmative; a motion for the suspension of the rules; a motion to reconsider itself."

I also, in support of this point of order, Mr. Speaker, submit Roberts' Rules of Order, Page 158, in accordance with this practice: "Votes on the following motions cannot be reconsidered: To adjourn, take a recess, lay on the table, take from the table and suspend the rules."

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides that the point of order is well taken and it is sustained.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, what business is now before the House?

The SPEAKER. Nothing is before the House.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Chair, what is the order of business?

The SPEAKER. Bills on third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up, from page 43 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 550, File Folio 3615.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Phillips,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 550, entitled:

An Act to amend sections four and six of the act approved the second day of April one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-eight) entitled "An act to establish a Department of Fisheries to provide for its proper administration and to provide for the protection and propagation of fish by the Department of Fisheries" as amended fixing the salary of the Commissioner of Fisheries authorizing the appointment of additional employes and providing for the salaries of the employes of the Department

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up, from page 44 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1350, File Folio 4011, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Sowers,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1350, entitled:

An Act to increase the pay of Jurors and Witnesses in this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 8 and 9 by striking out the following: "the railroad rates prevailing at the time of travel" and insert in lieu thereof the following:
Five cents per mile each way.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up, from page 44 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 254, File Folio 1595, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Stark,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 254, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and forty-seven) entitled "An act requiring all counties cities boroughs townships school districts and other municipalities and incorporated districts to sell any bonds or other securities issued by them to the highest responsible bidder after due public notice" making the provisions of the act also applicable to poor districts regulating the publication of such notices and the manner of receiving opening and announcing bids providing for statements as to publication etcetera to be filed by the chief officers of any such municipality in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions one week before issue or delivery of any such bond obligation or security providing penalty for failure so to do and providing that securities sold in violation of the act shall be void

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

To amend page 3, line 19 after the word "publication" by striking out "at seven day intervals".

At line 20 after the word "in" by inserting the words "at least."

At line 26 after the word "bid" insert the words "or bids".

Amend on page 4, line 4 after the word "newspaper" insert the word "or newspapers."

At line 12 after the word "the" insert the words "newspaper or."

At line twenty-two after "(Pamphlet Laws sixty-five)" by striking out "certified copies of the."

By striking out lines 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27 to the word "provided."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1071, entitled:

An Act to amend section two hundred and thirty-nine of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred forty) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" by giving restricted authority to supervisors in townships of the second class to furnish labor and materials subject to the approval of the township auditors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An act approved April seventeenth one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eighty-three number one hundred thirty-one) entitled "An act authorizing the State Treasurer of Pennsylvania to require additional security from any bank banking institution or trust company in which the funds of the State are deposited"

An act approved February seventeenth one thousand nine hundred and six (Pamphlet Laws forty-five) entitled "An act to regulate the deposits of State funds to prescribe the method of selecting State depositories to limit the amount of State deposits to provide for the security of such deposits to fix the rate of interest thereon to provide for the publication of monthly statements of moneys in the general and sinking funds to declare it a misdemeanor to give or take anything of value for obtaining the same and prescribing penalties for violations of this act"

An act approved July eighteenth one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and sixty-five) entitled "An act amending an act entitled 'An act to regulate the deposits of State funds to prescribe the method of selecting State depositaries to limit the amount of State deposits to provide for the security of such deposits to fix the rate of interest thereon to provide for the publication of monthly statements of moneys in the general and sinking funds to declare it a misdemeanor to give or take anything of value for obtaining the same and prescribing penalties for violations of this act' approved February seventeenth one thousand nine hundred and six so as to authorize combined deposits in all active depositaries to an amount not to exceed the sum of six million dollars and so as to authorize the selection by the Board of Revenue Commissioners and the Banking Commissioner of two banks or trust companies as active depositaries for State funds in addition to the number now provided by law" are hereby repealed

And all other acts or parts of acts supplied by or inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. James A. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, does he think it is fair that the State should pay the Auditor-General, the State Treasurer and the Banking Commissioner an additional three hundred dollar salary for taking care of this work?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the question by the gentleman from Clearfield, I wish to state that the additional salary is so small that it is not worth talking about. I have no right to pass any judgment on this bill, but to say that it is a proper provision, and this bill was prepared by our next Auditor General for the purpose of watching more carefully the depositories of the State, which will house about $200,000 in revenue and it has been approved by the former Secretary of the Commonwealth, Mr. Wood, and by the next Auditor General, Mr. Lewis, and by the banking commissioner. Another feature to be considered is that I have been informed that if it passes both houses the Governor will sign the bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask, does the gentleman from Philadelphia think it is necessary to pay these gentlemen an additional salary for the performance of their duty.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I can only say that this bill provides for something that gives them extra work which will take considerable time and they have figured it out that it is a salary approximately of $6 a week and it is not an exhorbitant salary.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Will it take any time off their regular duty—off their regular office work?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. No, the duties of the regular office will be performed, but this will be a part of the financial work of the financial officers of the Commonwealth to aid in securing safe depositories and an increase when the market warrants it on the bonds deposited.

Mr. PHILLIPS. How many commissions do these gentlemen belong to in the State?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I do not know.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Are there any other commissions from which they draw an extra salary.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Not that I know of, with a possible exception of the Secretary of the Commonweaith, who, if my memory serves me right, serves as a member of the Board of Pardons.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Do I undrstand the gentleman to say that the Governor will sign this bill.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. The Governor told me that if this bill passed both bodies of the Legislature, he would sign it.

Mr. PHILLIPS. That is all.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1111, (Senate Bill No. 297), entitled:

An Act authorizing receivers of taxes in and for cities of the first class to furnish certificates of taxes and claims which are liens on real estate and fixing the fees for such services.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if anybody here can inform me how much of an increase this bill provides for.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the amount of the increase, but it cannot be very much because the total is only one dollar. As I understand the bill was aimed at the title insurance companies of Philadelphia and other places that have a habit of sending their clerks to the City Hall and who take up all the books for the entire time for their own purposes excluding members of the bar and private people from looking up the records. This is for the purpose of charging them a dollar for searching that has to be made by the Clerks in the office who are paid by the City or the County as the case may be. I only know what the bill contains from having read it. It is a very short bill and I recommend it for perusal to my friend.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the charge now made for this service is twenty-five cents. I have never heard any complaint about that charge and it seems to me it is ample for the work done. It takes about two minutes to look up the records and a man could do that himself, if the receiver of taxes would permit him to do it, but for some reason or other he does not and the charge has been made of twenty-five cents for each bill furnished or each property searched. Now as I understand it they desire to increase it to one dollar for the purpose of providing some new places in the office which to my mind would simply be unnecessary.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I heard some explanation of this bill from the members of the Committee of the City Council who said that the cost of this particular work by the clerks employed by the City was greater than the amount received from the fees collected, and that their desire in having this act amended was in order to collect at least as much in fees as it cost the city to perform the services rendered, and that the fees collected go directly into the city treasury and not to the clerks.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is a bill that affects Philadelphia alone. It seems to me frankly that it would be a good bill to defeat.

It raises the charge from twenty-five cents to a dollar for obtaining from the receiver of taxes a certificate as to the charges against a property. Recently we had a big home-owning campaign in Philadelphia and a lot of poor people have bought their houses, two story houses, and the percentage of cost is exceedingly heavy. Now it does not seem to me that we ought to be in the business of increasing charges of this kind. Th office is maintained there by the city, it is paid for by the city appropriations, and it is a perfectly proper thing for a man who thinks he is going to own a property to go there and ask for a statement as to what municipal charges are against it. If we raise a charge of this kind it seems to me that it is more than likely to fall hardly upon the poor people who want to own their own properties. Therefore, personally, I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate my colleague from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Are you familiar with the time it takes in the tax office to make a certificate?

Mr. EDMONDS. Yes sir.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. What would be the average time?

Mr. EDMONDS. Oh. I should say ten minutes.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Ten minutes Now I wish to state as an employee of the tax office, a former employee of the tax office, that he is some expert if he can search the records of the office in ten minutes in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have not searched the records in that office for the last fifteen years.

Mr. J. W. SMITH. Fifteen years. Now Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as an ex-employee of the tax office, I want to say that in some cases I know it has taken the clerk for an hour to two hours to make a thorough search and see whether there was any claim against the property in Philadelphia. I think that it is nothing but a fair charge to charge that, as the money reverts to the treasury without any increase to the employees. I hope the bill will pass.

Mr. EDMONDS. I am afraid there has been a misunderstanding of my objection to the bill. The clerks in the tax office are paid, paid by the body of tax payers of the city of Philadelphia. This money does not go to them. It is only an indirect tax upon the man that wants to buy a property. Now, inasmuch as the property pays taxes, why should we not raise the money by taxation? In Philadelphia at present time we are paying a pretty high rate of taxes. Why add to this these little petty charges that are so irritating to a man who goes to the government which he helps to support in order to get the proper information? It seems to me to be the kind of legislation that is very offensive, and it should be defeated.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, my colleague from Philadelphia who has just taken his seat, is entirely mistaken. This bill will not affect the man who is buying a house, but it is going to effect the title insurance companies. They send their men there to make the search, and they are objecting to this bill because it affects them. The title companies in Philadelphia have almost doubled their charges and now because you are asking them to pay a small increase, they have sent their representatives here objecting to the passage of a bill of this kind. I do not think in the city of Philadelphia that the tax office should have its clerks devote all their time to looking up these records for the title companies in Philadelphia. I think this bill ought to pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MR. HESS IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1044, (Senate Bill No. 12), entitled:

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and one) entitled "An act for the assignment of judges to districts other than their own for the purpose of expediting business with provision for their compensation"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I want to call your attention to this bill. Two years ago we raised the salaries of the judges all over the State of Pennsylvania. At the same time that we raised the salaries, we give their traveling expenses to the judges who were called upon to serve in other districts than their own. Now, those salaries throughout the State were raised to a very good amount, fair and just. Their traveling expenses are given them, and they are allowed twenty-five dollars a day while sitting in a district other than their own. Therefore, at the present time, they are entitled to their regular salary, be it seven or eight or ten thousand dollars a year, whichever it may be, and they are entitled to twenty-five dollars besides that for sitting in the extra district. They are entitled to their traveling expenses, and now they come in and ask for a maximum of ten dollars a day for hotel board. Now, I say that the salaries fixed for the judges over this State are ample, especially for that judge who does not have enough work in his own district to keep him busy and who is permitted to go into other districts and earn twenty-five dollars a day, with his expenses in addition. It is asking too much at this time. I think we have gone the limit,—I for one was willing to go the limit, but I think we have gone the limit now. I for one will vote against this bill.

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator John S. Miller, the Senator from the Senatorial district in which I reside, and he asked me to have some little supervision over and look out for the measure when it came up in the House. Now, I would have had nothing to say if the gentleman from Delaware, who preceded me, had not made a mistake in his argument in regard to the compensation now received by the judges. He said under the present law they are given the sum of twenty-five dollars per day when they perform services outside of their own judicial district. By reference to the old law, which is quoted in this proposed amendment to the old law, it will be seen that their compensation is twenty dollars per day and carfare. Now, some of the judges in the interior of the State, I am informed by the Senator, in consideration of that compensation concluded, inasmuch as the high cost of living caused them to pay out so much of that twenty dollars when they would go into counties like Delaware and Philadelphia, that they would, in justice to themselves and their families, not be asking too much if they would come to the Legislature of Pennsylvania and ask that their services, for duties performed outside of their districts, while living at the expensive hotels maintained in Media, on Broad Street, and Fifth Avenue in Pittsburgh, that they would be justified in asking at least ten dollars a day additional allowance, falling in with the lines of the generous treatment which the Legislature has accorded to the judges of our appellate courts. I am not appealing for the passage of this bill in such thunderous tones as will shake the mountains of Allegheny. It is up to the Representatives to say whether or not the common pleas judges are asking too much of an increase in their allowance, when they ask for ten dollars a day for hotel expenses.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ogle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OGLE. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Somerset, will he inform the House what the judges of Somerset County are getting as a salary per annum?

Mr. OGLE. Six thousand dollars per year.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And in addition to that salary they get twenty dollars a day for doing work outside of their district for hotel and traveling expenses?

Mr. OGLE. Yes, sir, twenty dollars a day.

Mr. ALEXANDER. That is for the expenses when serving in a judicial district outside of their own district?

Mr. OGLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, this bill makes but a very little change in the law, and that change is very important to Philadelphia, and the judges who serve in Philadelphia. We frequently, in Philadelphia, call on judges from up the State to come down to Philadelphia to assist us. The only change that it makes is that the judge who comes to Philadelphia shall have his hotel expenses and meals provided for. When a judge comes down to Philadelphia, do you want him to eat around the corner at a "busy bee" or live in a decent hotel? The bill provides for his hotel expenses not to exceed ten dollars a day. He cannot get along on three or four dollars a day. His room, alone, at a respectable hotel, will be from four to five dollars a day, and his meals will cost him nearly as much more, and in justice to these judges they should be cared for, and it won't affect these men in the country. The bill says "not to exceed ten dollars a day." I ask you men when you send your judges to Philadelphia that you will make it possible by this bill so that they can live decently.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I heartily agree with all that has been said about having respect for the judiciary and the necessity for treating the members of the judiciary in accordance with the dignity of their office. I submit, also, in all these financial bills, it is our duty to test them by a principle. Permit me to say that the President of the United States has earnestly urged upon the people of the United States to get back to normal conditions. We cannot get back to normal conditions if the costs of government keep piling up. I feel that the salary of a judge which he receives, plus twenty dollars a day when he serves outside of his district for the purpose of traveling and hotel expenses, should at this time enable him to live in accordance with the dignity of his office. It is my feeling that this kind of an appropriation is of a character that is view with disfavor by our constituents at home. Therefore, I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the Chair just wishes to endorse what has been said by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, and the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander. Two years ago this House did very materially increase the judges' salaries by about thirty-three and one-third per cent., and we also increased the salaries of the judges of the Superior and the Supreme Courts by a very handsome margin. A short time ago I spoke to one of the judges of the Superior Court and he said, "We now feel that the Legislature has certainly done enough for the judges of our courts, and we should not ask them to do anything further." In view of these facts, it would seem unwise to pass a bill such as the one that is now before the House, and for that reason I am constrained to endorse and take pleasure in endorsing the statements made on the floor of this House by my colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, and the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1282, (Senate Bill No. 462), entitled:

An Act to provide separate accommodations for women jurors at the several court houses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KINSMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title by adding at the end thereof the following: "and providing that the separation of jurors in certain cases shall not work mistrials."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 2 by adding after the word "thereof" the following:

"No separation for rest or sleep of men and women serving upon any jury shall work a mistrial in any simple or criminal case, if such jury is at all times in charge of a tipstave."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Section 9 Conditional Sale of Goods for Resale When goods are delivered under a conditional sale contract and the seller expressly or impliedly consents that the buyer may resell them prior to performance of the condition the reservation of property shall be void against purchasers from the buyer for value in the ordinary course of business and as to them the buyer shall be deemed the owner of the goods even though the contract or a copy thereof shall be filed according to the provisions of this act.

Section 10 Filing The filing officer shall mark upon the contract or copy filed with him the day and hour of filing and shall file the contract or copy in his office for public inspection He shall keep a separate book in which he shall enter the names of the seller and buyer the date of the contract the day and hour of filing a brief description of goods the price named in the contract and the date of cancellation thereof except that in entering the contracts mentioned in section eight the recorder of deeds shall record either the sum remaining to be paid upon the contract or the price of the goods Such book shall be indexed under the names of both seller and buyer For filing and entering such contract or copy the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents except that for filing and entering a contract described in section eight the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to the same fee as he is now allowed by law for similar services

Section 11 Refiling The filing of conditional sale contracts provided for in section five six and seven shall be valid for a period of three years only The filing of the contract provided for by section eight shall be valid for a period of fifteen years only The validity of the filing may in each case be extended for successive additional periods of one year from the date of refiling by filing in the proper filing district a copy of the original contract within thirty days next preceding the expiration of each period with a statement attached signed by the seller showing that the contract is in force and the amount remaining to be paid thereon Such copy with statement attached shall be filed and entered in the same manner as a contract or copy filed and entered for the first time and the filing officer shall be entitled to a like fee as upon the original filing

Section 12 Cancellation of Contract After the performance of the condition upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer or any other person having an interest in the goods the seller shall execute acknowledge and delivered to the demandant a statement that the condition in the contract has been performed If for ten days after such demand the seller fails to mail or deliver such a statement of satisfaction he shall forfeit to the demandant five dollars and be liable for all damages suffered Upon presentation of such statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall file the same and note the cancellation of the contract and the date thereof on the margin of the page where the contract has been entered For filing and entering the statement of satisfaction the filing officer shall be entitled to a fee of thirty cents except that the recorder of deeds shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for filing and entering a statement of the satisfaction of a contract described in section eight

Section 13 Prohibition of Removal or Sale Without Notice Unless the contract otherwise provides the buyer may without the consent of the seller remove the goods from any filing district and sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them but prior to the performance of the condition no such buyer shall remove the goods from a filing district in which the contract or a copy thereof is filed except for temporary uses for a period of not more than thirty days unless the buyer not less than ten days before such removal shall give the seller personally or by registered mail written notice of the place to which the goods are to be removed and the approximate time of such intended removal not prior to the performance of the condition shall the buyer sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in the goods unless he or the person to whom he is about to sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of the same shall notify the seller in writing personally or by registered mail of the name and address of the person to whom the interest in the goods is about to be sold mortgaged or otherwise transferred not less than ten days before such sale mortgage or other disposal If any buyer does so remove the goods or does so sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of his interest in them without such notice or in violation of the contract the seller may retake possession of the goods and deal with them as in case of default in payment of part or all of the purchase price The provisions of this section regarding the removal of goods shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 13, page 9, line 13, by striking out "not" and inserting in lieu thereof "nor"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth, twenty-first, twenty-second and twenty-third sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 14 Refiling on Removal When prior to the performance of the condition the goods are removed by the buyer from a filing district in this state to another filing district in this state in which such contract or a copy thereof is not filed or are removed from another state into a filing district in this state where such contract or copy is not filed the reservation of the property in the seller shall be void as to the purchasers and creditors described in section five unless the conditional sale contract or a copy thereof shall be filed in the filing district to which the goods are removed within ten days after the seller has received notice of the filing district to which the goods have been removed The provisions of this section shall not apply however to the goods described in section eight The provisions of section eleven regarding the duration of the validity of the filing and the necessity for refiling shall apply to contracts or copies which are filed in a filing district other than where the goods are originally kept for use by the buyer after the sale

Section 15 Fraudulent Injury Concealment Removal or Sale When prior to the performance of the condition the buyer maliciously or with intent to defraud shall injure destroy or conceal the goods or remove them to a filing filed without having given the notice required by section thirteen or shall sell mortgage or otherwise dispose of such goods under claim of full ownership he shall be guilty of a crime and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than one year or be fined not more than five hundred dollars or both

Section 16 Retaking Possession When the buyer shall be in default in the payment of any sum due under the contract or in the performance of any other condition which the contract requires him to perform in order to obtain the property in the goods or in the performance of any promise the breach of which is by the contract expressly made a ground for the retaking of the goods the seller may retake possession thereof Unless the goods can be retaken without breach of the peace they shall be retaken by legal process but nothing herein shall be construed to authorize a violation of the criminal law

Section 17 Notice of Intention to Retake Not more than forty nor less than twenty days prior to the retaking the seller if he so desires may serve upon the buyer personally or by registered mail a notice of intention to retake the goods on account of the buyer's default The notice shall state the default and the period at the end of which the goods will be retaken and shall briefly and clearly state what the buyer's rights under this act will be in case they are retaken If the notice is so served and the buyer does not perform the obligations in which he has made default before the day set for retaking the seller may retake the goods and hold them subject to the provisions of sections nineteen twenty twenty-one twenty-two and twenty-three regarding the sale but without any right of redemption

Section 18 Redemption If the seller does not give the notice of intention to retake described in section seventeen he shall retain the goods for ten days after the retaking within the state in which they were located when retaken during which period the buyer upon payment or tender of the amount due under the contract at the time of retaking and interest or upon performance or tender of performance of such other condition as may be named in the contract as precedent to the passage of the property in the goods or upon performance or tender of performance of any other promise for the breach of which the goods were retaken and upon payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storage may redeem the goods and become entitled to take possession of them and to continue in the performance of the contract as if no default had occurred Upon written demand delivered personally or by registered mail by the buyer the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expense of retaking keeping and storage For failure to furnish such statement within a reasonable time after demand the seller shall forfeit to the buyer ten dollars and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure If the goods are perishable or that retention for ten days as herein prescribed would result in their destruction or substantial injury the provisions of this section shall not apply and the seller may resell the goods immediately upon their retaking The provision of this section requiring the retention of the goods within the state during the period allowed for redemption shall not apply to the goods described in section eight

Section 19 Compulsory Resale by Seller If the buyer does not redeem the goods within ten days after the seller has retaken possession and the buyer has paid at least fifty per cent. of the purchase price at the time of the retaking the seller shall sell them at public auction in the state where they were at the time of the retaking such sale to be held not more than thirty days after the retaking The seller shall give to the buyer not less than ten days' written notice of the sale either personally or by registered mail directed to the buyer at his last known place of business or residence The seller shall also give notice of the sale by at least three notices posted in different public places within the filing district where the goods are to be sold at least five days before the sale If at the time of the retaking five hundred dollars or more has been paid on the purchase price the seller shall also give notice of the sale at least five days before the sale by publication in a newspaper published or having a general circulation within the filing district where the goods are to be sold The seller may bid for the goods at the resale If the goods are of the kind described in section eight the parties may fix in the conditional sale contract the place where the goods shall be resold

Section 20 Resale at Option of Parties If the buyer has not paid at least fifty per cent. of the purchase at the time of the retaking the seller shall not be under a duty to resell the goods as prescribed in section nineteen unless the buyer serves upon the seller within ten days after the retaking a written notice demanding a resale delivered personally or by registered mail If such notice is served the resale shall take place within thirty days after the service in the manner at the place and upon the notice prescribed in section nineteen The seller may voluntarily resell the goods for account of the buyer on compliance with the same requirements

Section 21 Proceeds of Resale The proceeds of the resale shall be applied (One) to the payment of the expenses thereof (Two) to the payment of the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods (Three) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer

Section 22 Deficiency on Resale If the proceeds of the resale are not sufficient to defray the expenses thereof and also the expenses of retaking keeping and storing the goods and the balance due upon the purchase price the seller may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from any one who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer

Section 23 Rights of Parties Where There is no Resale Where there is no resale the seller may retain the goods as his own property without obligation to account to the buyer except as provided in section twenty-five and the buyer shall be discharged of all obligation

The twenty-fourth section was read as follows:

Section 24 Election of Remedies After the retaking of possession as provided in section sixteen the buyer shall be liable for the price only after a resale and only to the extent provided in section twenty-two Neither the bringing of an action by the seller for the recovery of the whole or any part of the price nor the recovery of judgment in such action nor the collection of a portion of the price shall be deemed inconsistent with a later retaking of the goods as provided in section sixteen But such right of retaking shall not be exercised by the seller after he has collected the entire price or after he has claimed a lien upon the goods or attracted them or levied upon them as the goods of the buyer

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" which reads as follows

"Section 2 The judges of said court shall be learned in the law and shall be elected by the duly qualified electors of said county for terms of ten years if they so long behave themselves well

The president judge shall receive a salary of six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500) per annum and the associate judges shall receive salaries of six thousand dollars by the State in the same manner that the salaries of the judges of the courts of common pleas are paid The term of office of the judges of the court shall begin on the first Monday of January following their election

The first judges of the said court shall be elected at the general election held in November one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

In the event of a vacancy in the office of judge or when by reason of a new United States census more judges are to be chosen the Governor shall appoint judges to hold office until such time as their successors shall be elected as provided by the Constitution of the State in such case and their successors shall be elected to the full term of ten years

The Governor upon the first election of judges as aforesaid shall designate one of their number to be president judge and shall after the election aforesaid and from time to time when a vacancy occurs in the office of the president judge either by expiration of his term or for other reason designate one of the judges to be president judge.

It shall be unlawful for any judge of the said court to practice law during his continuance in office" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The judges of said court shall be learned in the law and shall be elected by the duly qualified electors of said county for terms of ten years if they so long behave themselves well

The president judge and the associate judges shall receive the salaries now provided by law payable by the State in the same manner that the salaries of the judges of the courts of common pleas are paid The term of office of the judges of the court shall begin on the first Monday of January following their election

The first judges of the said court shall be elected at the general election held in November one thousand nine hundred thirteen

In the event of a vacancy in the office of judge or when by reason of a new United States census more judges are to be chosen the Governor shall appoint judges to hold office until the first Monday of January succeeding the next municipal election at which election the vacancies shall be filled and the additional judges caused by such increase in population shall be elected to the full term of ten years from the first Monday of January next following such election

The Governor upon the first election of judges as aforesaid shall designate one of their member to be president judge and shall after the election aforesaid and from time to time when a vacancy occurs in the office of president judge either by expiration of his term or for other reason designate one of the judges to be president judge

It shall be unlawful for any judge of the said court to practice law during his continuance in office

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRAINER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of my colleague the purpose of placing this bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose in making the motion is to secure more information on the bill. The information I desire to secure is in Philadelphia, and for that reason I have asked for this postponement. When I come back I assure the House that I will have sufficient information to make up for the delay in the bill.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, the bill, if you will notice, is on second reading. It is customary on matters of this kind to request a postponement when the bill is on third reading. This bill has been in the Senate and the House for at least two or three weeks, during which time the gentleman who desires information could have secured that information in Philadelphia, or otherwise. It seems to me in all fairness that if the gentleman desires any information or a continuance, he should have asked for it on third reading. Before this bill is reached in order on third reading, it will be at least Friday of this week or the beginning of next week, so there would be no value in delaying the bill. In the proper working of legislative machinery this bill will not be reached until probably next week, during which time the gentleman can satisfy himself as to whatever information he desires. I trust the motion will not prevail.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced the "nays" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and fifty-one gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and sixty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 4 by striking out lines 3 to 9 inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following:

The said judges shall constitute a board of judges and they shall choose and elect one of their number to be president judge and from time to time when a vacancy occurs in the office of president judge either by expiration of his term or for other cause, shall select one of the judges to be president judge: Provided, That the said board of judges shall be authorized and empowered at any time to remove the president judge for proper cause and elect a president judge in his place and stead. The disposition of the business of said court shall be divided among all the judges of said court, including the president judge, and shall rotate in regular order and turn in the service of the court or courts. The said board of judges shall formulate rules for the disposal of the business of the court or courts not inconsistent with the provisions herein.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, it has been my very good fortune during the entire session of this Legislature to have been able to evade any factional squabble, whether it was a Philadelphia factional squabble or any others, and I very, very much regret that at this time I am called upon to enter into what appears to me a sniping contest in factional politics. I suppose that not even the sponsor of this amendment will deny that the purpose in introducing it is to take a blow at the president judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. When this Legislature passed the Municipal Court Act, it provided that His Excellency, the Governor, should designate one of the judges elected to act as president judge, and that was done because experience has shown in the Common Pleas Courts of Philadelphia that one of the judges shall be the president judge, and that the business can be better expedited by having one of the judges so act. During the last few years the Municipal Court in Philadelphia has been operating, and I submit operating efficiently, and all those who have had experience in this court know that they have operated in a very proper and efficient manner.

Why should we at this time take from His Excellency, the Governor, the right to designate who shall be the president judge? This is an amendment which does not arise in good faith; it is an amendment which should not prevail; it is an amendment which has its inception in petty peanut politics, and I trust that the members of the House will place their well-deserved confidence in our Governor, whether it be the present Governor or the Governor to be elected next year. We have been functioning in Philadelphia properly and efficiently; there are not any complaints from the litigants of the courts, and I trust that you will put your stamp of disapproval upon factional politics in Philadelphia. It is the first time that I have taken the floor on anything which smacks of anything in the way of factional politics in Philadelphia. The House has been very indulgent to the Philadelphia members and I trust that this amendment will be defeated and that you will put your stamp of disapproval on injecting Philadelphia factional politics into this House.

Mr. SMINK. Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry that my good friend and colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, should accuse me of insincerity in proposing this amendment. There is in it no factional politics as far as I am concerned, and no one has more respect for the Governor of this Commonwealth than have I. I feel, however, that in the bill creating the Municipal Court in the County of Philadelphia, that it is like a great many other legislative acts, subject to amendment as time goes on. I feel from a democratic standpoint, that it would be far better if the board of judges or the judges of the Municipal Court constituting the board should elect their own head, and for that reason alone I have submitted these amendments. I could go on for some time in talking about the Municipal Court as it exists in the city of Philadelphia. It has been a thorn in politics, of course for the one sole reason that the president judge of that court is in politics, and it is for the purpose of doing that, and I believe without meaning to take any authority whatever from the Governor, that these amendments are submitted. I believe that we are taking a very obnoxious duty off the Governor's shoulders when we say in this bill that the board shall elect their own president judge, thereby relieving the Governor of that appointment. I am not an attorney, and, therefore, do not come in direct contact with the court, but I know, as a matter of fact, from the standpoint of an humble citizen that the Municipal Court in the city of Philadelphia is costing the taxpayers more than one million dollars or more a year. We who are in this House week after week see the presiding judge of that court in attendance here almost every day of this session. That is the purpose of the second part of this amendment that the disposition of the business of said court shall be divided among all the judges of the said court, including the president judge, and that they shall rotate in the regular order and in turn of service I submit that there is no factional politics on my part in offering these amendments, but it is a sincere purpose to put the Municipal Court of Philadelphia on a higher plane and to give the citizens of Philadelphia a better court and more and better service for the money that it is costing them at the present time.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has told us that the Municipal Court has cost a million dollars, or more. I don't know the exact figures. I presume the gentleman is stating that which he knows to be a fact. He has seen fit to cast reflection upon the fact that the president judge of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia has seen fit to come to Harrisburg in the interest of legislation which affects the work of the Municipal Court. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, recently the North American of Philadelphia, a paper which has not been particularly friendly to the president judge of the Municipal Court, had an editorial setting forth in glowing terms the work of that court, stating that the president judge has stood for adjusting the troubles between husband and wife, between father and mother and children, and that paper has given publicity to the fact that the Municipal Court of Philadelphia is doing great work. It is work that stands far in advance of that of many other courts in reconstructing families. I do not care if it costs one million or five million dollars. There is no greater work for any court than the reconciliation of husband and wife and the bringing together of fathers and mothers and their children. I have heard no complaints from residents of Philadelphia that the work has not been attended to. I have no complaints, and have heard no complaints about the work of that court, save from the political opponents of the president judge, and of the judges of that court. I care not what amount is necessary. If the most important work of the courts carried out by the municipal court is the cementing together of the affections of the family relations, then I say that court should be encouraged. I have never had the president judge of that court ask me to do a single thing in this House which did not make for the better advancement of the work of that court. He works hard, not only during the daytime but at night, and this bill is a reflection not only upon the president judge, but upon all the judges of that court. They work hard efficiently, decently, and they play fair.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to add a word or two in relation to the municipal court and its function. My daughter is a member of the society of organized charity of Philadelphia, and has been an active worker for that society for over two years, and was also a resident of the Philadelphia college settlement where she had some work. I received a letter from her just about a week or ten days ago, in which she told me that there was a serious attempt being made to interfere seriously with the functions of the municipal court of Philadelphia, and she said to me that there had been over three thousand cases of families who had been reunited in the city, and that the work was of inestimable benefit to the poor people of the city, and she hoped and prayed that nothing would be done to interfere with the wonderful work that was being done and accomplished by this court.

Mr. EDMONDS. Like my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, I depreciate very strongly bringing local matters into this legislature for ventilation, but yet at the same time there are certain classes of matters that can only be remedied in the legislature and when a question comes up concerning which the forty representatives of Philadelphia are informed and the one hundred and six from outside of Philadelphia are not informed, it seems clear to me that there is a duty upon those of us who live in Philadelphia at least to try to make the situation clear.

As I understand the situation there is no criticism of the judicial work of the municipal court. The bill creating this court was passed ten or twelve years ago, and it has worked admirably so far as the judicial work is concerned. There is no criticism of the welfare work of the municipal court. Very much of the various welfare advancement work has been committed to that court, and that welfare is on the whole most important work for the peace and happiness of the people of Philadelphia. There is, however, criticism, Mr. Speaker, of the political activity of certain judges, or a certain judge, and in that criticism I share most strongly. As a member of the bar I have a very clear conception as to the duty of a judge when he goes upon the bench. He should remove himself from all political associations. He should not serve upon political committees and should not make his office a means for trying to develop one political faction or another. He should hold himself absolutely removed from all political factions in the neighborhood in which he is called upon to serve. He may be absolutely just as between man and man, but he can never convince the man who comes before him, who belongs to another political faction, that he is getting fair play so long as his case is being decided by a man who is taking active part in factional politics to which this man does not belong. Therefore it seems clear to me that in all the legislation which we pass with reference to the courts we ought to insist most earnestly that the man who takes upon himself the duties of a judge shall remove himself from factional politics, and hold himself aloof from all questions of politics in his community, because as I understand the great criticism of the citizens of Philadelphia with reference to this court is that as the years go on its costs increase tremendously. The power of issuing writs of mandamus is vested originally in the courts and by the issuance of these writs the proponents are enabled to obtain judgments against the city, and it is also used in piling up the costs for the administration of the court. Now, that, Mr. Speaker, is a proposition which has become very repugnant to the people. The amendment that is suggested by my kind friend proposes to meet that by placing the fixing of the costs of the court and the number of court officers, and the general arrangement of the court in the hands of the entire court instead of in one member of that court. Personally I believe that amendment will commend itself to the citizens of Philadelphia. I do not agree with my friend from Philadelphia that spoke first that the amendment is offered in bad faith. There has been no question during the past year that has been discussed more earnestly in Philadelphia than this one, and we really think that if city's administration of justice in this case is to be placed in the hands of one man, and that one man sits in and takes part in factional politics there is bound to develop a situation which will eventually undermine the confidence of the people in this court. I want fervently to see that confidence retained; I want fervently to see that respect for the courts which there always should be, but there cannot be that respect for the courts so long as the patronage of the court is used for the benefit of one political faction or another.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, has amply demonstrated to this house that this is a factional political bill so far as the amendments are concerned. The amendments do not strike the bill proper. There are added altogether to a different point. If they were on the level, they would have offered a bill, a separate bill absolutely, with the amendments that they want in it. It is not our purpose to thrash out any further the political differences in Philadelphia and her politics kept from this floor vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Trainer and Mr. Green.

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1156, as follows:

An Act affecting Anthracite Coal Mines and Operations establishing the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission defining its jurisdiction and powers imposing duties upon owners and operators of anthracite coal mines and imposing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the words "owner" "operator" and "mine" and the phrase "anthracite coal mine" wherever used in this act are declared to bear the same meaning as the same bear in the act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-six to two hundred and eight inclusive)

Section 2 Within three months after the approval of this act there shall be established a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania State Anthracite Mine Cave Commission

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of every anthracite coal mine within six months after the approval of this act to signify in writing to the commission whether or not such owner or operator voluntarily accepts the provisions of section eight of this act Such acceptance or rejection shall be acknowledged and recorded in the recorder of deeds' office of the county or counties in which such anthracite coal mine or mines are situate in the same manner as deeds of conveyance An owner or operator who has rejected the provisions of section eight of this act may thereafter accept the same in the manner hereinbefore provided

Section 4 Every owner or operator who fails to signify in writing a non-acceptance of the provisions of section eight of this act within six months from the approval of this act shall be conclusively presumed to have accepted the provisions of said section Every acceptance or failure to signify a non-acceptance as aforesaid shall bind the successors in title heirs personal representatives and assigns of such owner or operator

Section 5 Every corporation hereafter to be organized under the laws of this Commonwealth under a charter giving the privilege to own or operate anthracite coal mines shall be conclusively presumed to consent to be bound by the provisions of Section eight of this act

Section 6 Every foreign corporation hereafter admitted to do business within the jurisdiction of this Commonwealth under a charter giving the privilege to own or operate anthracite coal mines shall be conclusively presumed to consent to be bound by the provisions of section eight of this act

Section 7 It shall be the duty of every owner and operator of every anthracite coal mine or mining operation to file with the aforesaid commission copies of all maps and plans of their underground workings whenever the same are required by existing law to be filed or deposited with any public officer or authority

Section 8 It shall be the duty of every owner or operator who accepts or becomes subject to the provisions of this section of this act in the manner hereinbefore provided to pay the commission herein established on the first day of May August November and February respectively a sum equal to two per centum of the market price when prepared for market of all anthracite coal mined within this Commonwealth by such owner or operator during the first second third and fourth quarters respectively of every year The commission shall have power by suit in assumpsit to enforce collection of such sums as becomes delinquent with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month

Section 9 All sums received by the commission shall be deposited to the credit of the commission on one or more banks which are entitled to receive deposits of State moneys and shall be expended only upon order of the commission for the purposes and objects and in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 10 Said funds so received shall be expended by the commission for the salaries and other expenses of said commission for the prevention and elimination of danger to life limb and health and avoidance of grave public harm by surface subsidence resulting from past or future anthracite coal mining operations and likewise for the prevention ascertainment and remedying of damages to persons and properties so resulting

Section 11 Every person natural or artificial including municipalities claiming to have suffered injury or damage to person or property by reason of surface subsidence occurring within six years prior to the passage of this act or which may hereafter occur resulting from past or future anthracite coal mining operations may file a sworn itemized statement thereof with the commission which shall promptly proceed to investigate the claim and shall award the claimant such sums as in its judgment will fairly compensate for the damages sustained

Section 12 The commission shall have power in every case instead of awarding damages to such claimants to cause injured property to be restored to its former condition and for this purpose to employ labor purchase materials or let contracts

Section 13 No awards shall be paid to any such claimant except upon condition that such claimant execute a general release of all past damages to the particular property injured or damaged in favor of the owner or operator whose workings occasion the damage provided said owner or operators has accepted the provisions of section eight of this act

Section 14 Every owner or operator who has accepted the provisions of section eight of this act shall be privileged at any time to submit to the commission an application setting forth details of proposed mining operations to recover coal belonging to the applicant and located beneath a structure highway or other improvement of a class protected against subsidence by the provisions of the act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one entitled "An act regulating the mining of anthracite coal prescribing duties for certain municipal officers and imposing penalties" The application shall also set forth under oath the belief of the applicant that the removal of such coal can be affected without endangering human life limb or health or causing grave public harm

Section 15 The commission shall take prompt action upon such application make such investigation as appears to be required and if convinced of the truth of the matters set forth in the application make an order permitting the applicant to carry out proposed mining operations under such safeguards of life limb health and general welfare as it may reasonably require and all damages occasioned by such mining operations shall be paid by the commission Provided however That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to affect any express or implied contractual or property right of support belonging to the owner of the overlying or adjacent surface

Section 16 No owner or operator shall be prosecuted for causing a subsidence collapse or cave-in of any structure highway or other property where the mining operations had been conducted in pursuance of an order of the commission and in a careful and skillful manner
